

Who is most at risk?

A stylized illustration of an elderly man and woman walking. The man, on the left, is wearing a green vest over a yellow shirt, black pants, and glasses. The woman, on the right, is wearing a blue dress and a grey headscarf, and is using a wooden walking stick. They are walking on a light grey tiled floor. The entire illustration is enclosed within a large white circle.

An illustration of a young girl with dark skin and black hair in pigtails, wearing a light blue shirt. Below her is a baby with light skin, wearing a blue diaper, crawling on all fours. Both are set against a white circular background with a grey tiled floor.

People who have undergone surgery on the gastrointestinal system.
